

By making better products, our aim is to - make things better.

Look around you. Everywhere you look you're surrounded by manufacturers products. For better or worst, the quality of modern life depends on manufacturers committing themselves to design and workmanship.

At Medisphere we see this as a greater responsibility.

Our product line includes:

- Low Air-Loss and Rotation Therapy Systems
- Alternating Pressure Therapy Systems
- Gel Mattress Overlays and Cushions
- Seating Solutions Powered and Non Powered

High quality products for enhanced patient care. All of our products are made to exceed the clinical standards of the International healthcare industry and public sector.

Everything we make, do and say is part of a mission to improve the world around us. A pump unit that is quieter and looks less forbidding. A mattress with quality, durability and comfort. A control panel that's easier to programme. Clarity if information. They all make someone somewhere somehow happier.

And that makes us feel a whole lot better too.

Now we want to be known for making things better.

This is more than a clever play on words. The phrase encapsulates what Medisphere stands for - not just the technology that goes into making new and better products, but a wider commitment to have a positive impact on the quality of people's daily lives.
